

WNC PRESIDENT CAROL LUCEY TO STEP DOWN

After more than 14 years at the helm of Western Nevada College, President Carol Lucey says she will step down from her post in the coming months, following a national search for a new college leader. During President Lucey's tenure, WNC has made significant advances in enrollment of recent high school graduates and minority students, in workforce, science and technology-focused academic programs, and in student success and campus life enhancements.

College initiatives have increased enrollment and degree completion by recent high school graduates as well as minority students. President Lucey has also led the college toward a greater emphasis on programs that focus on science, technology, engineering and mathematics. President Lucey, who came to Nevada from New York state in 1999, plans to remain in the West and continue work to improve the lives of young Western Nevadans through education. Read More.

NEW LEADERS OFFER FRESH PERSPECTIVES

WNC welcomes Chet Burton and Dr. Robert Wynegar as Vice Presidents filling vacancies created by the retirement of long-time administrators Daniel Neverett and Connie Capurro. Burton is the college's VP of Finance and Administrative Services, and Wynegar is the VP of Academic and Student Affairs.

Read More about Chet Burton

Read More about Dr. Robert Wynegar

Student News

Payment Deadlines Nearing: Fall Calendar
Bookstore Shelves Ready for Students
New Academic Directors Take the Reins
First Latino Student Cohort Graduates
NV Law Aids Children of Fallen Public Servants
Brita Stations Provide Free Filtered Water

On Campus

College Welcomes New Directors
Workshops on Tap to Boost Farm Profits
Machine Tool Shop Gets New Equipment
Tee Off! Golf for WNC

NVEnergy grants have allowed the college to enhance electronics technologies program equipment and support Project Graduate.

Arts and Culture

WNMTC Wins 'Best of the Best' for Phantom
Student Shows the Artistic Side of Welding

Athletics

Wildcat Teams Earn Academic Honors
Softball Program Signs 2013-14 Players